WHEAT
MARKETING
QUOTAS

A NATIONAL QUESTION THAT WILL BE SETTLED
BY FARMERS-

Marketing quotas divide more equally among all farmers the responsibility for adjusting to a limited market.

Surplus wheat above the production from acreage allotments is kept off the market.

Marketing quotas will promote the orderly marketing of wheat.

AN AMERICAN ANSWER TO VANISHING MARKETS

One and a quarter billion bushels of wheat!

Enough to last America 2 years without growing a kernel. A big crop is on the way.

- FOREIGN MARKETS ARE NEARLY GONE -

A decade ago a billion-bushel supply meant 40-cent wheat.

- BUT NOT NOW -

Last year farmers used AAA Program to get an average return of 85 cents.

Because of supplies dammed up by war a price collapse is threatened. It need not occur.

- BECAUSE -

Farmers in AAA Program have the means of dealing with price-breaking surpluses.

If quotas carry, all farmers may sell without penalty all they produce on their acreage allotments.

Farmers who over-seed will have to pay a penalty on the excess wheat or store it under seal.

When marketing quotas are placed in effect, each producer is allotted his share of the market and if he markets more than his share, he must pay a penalty on such excess marketing.

Farmers will decide in a national referendum on May 31, whether quotas will be used. Approval requires a two-thirds majority.
